MR. DAVIS AS ARBITRATOR

DREAM OF YELLOW GOLD

A Colored Man Turning Up His Back Yard in Search of Buried Treasure. First Bale of Virginia Cotton. Favor New Trial for Bacon.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, 'AA, September 16.—
Probably the highest compliment to a Petersburg man in the financial world
in many years is that which came to Mr. Charles Hall Davis, of this city, in his appointment as one of the arbitrators
of the differences between Mr. George E.
Fisher and Mr. Frank Jay Gould in which 1,000,000 is involved, Vinisow S. Pierce, of New York, a prominent official of the Maryland Central Railroad, Union Pacific Railroad and Missouri Central Railroad, has been chosen by Mr. Gould to represent him in this matter. There were three names under consideration for selection to represent the Fisher interest, Elihu Root, Grover Cloveland and Charles Hall Davis, of Petersburg, Mr.
Davis was the choice. Davis and pierce
will arbitrate the differences.

DIGGING FOR GOLD.

Henry Christian, a very well known colored man of this city, whose home is in Blandford, has been digging ever since a dream several nights ago. Christian is said to have learned in a dream that there is a great treasure buried in his yard, and so impressed was he that he began immediately to dig. He light his purpose a secret, and it was only recently that he took into his confidence several friends, who, with Christian as their guide, have continued to excavate in the yard. It is claimed by some that a lirge sum of money was buried there during the civil war. All outsiders are refused admission to the lot, and a large hole tells of the work the men have done.

POLITICAL ISSUES.

The opinion of many in Dinwickle
county is that in the election of members to the House of Delegates of Virginia
the Mann bill should not be considered;
as there are questions of more vital interest to the people of the county than that of the sale of whiskey. The improvement of the roads and the extermination of the uncarred for dogs which overrun the county interfering with the raising of sheep, are matters they believe of more importance. At least one is of the opinion that the people should be taxed, if need be,

real estate.

Mr. J. H. P. Leigh has withdrawn from the legislatural race in this city. This leaves three candidates to be voted for at the primary to be held in this city next Thursday, the 24th. The time for entering the primary will close Friday. Messrs. William C. Atwater and Company, operators of three large mines in the Pocahoutas coal fields, have appointed the Jackson Coal and Coke Company, of this city, their agent for Virginia and a part of North Carolina.

It would be hard to find a person in Petersburg, who does not believe that Doe Bacon should have a new trial before he is permitted to die on the scuffold. Since the colored people seem unable to get a sum sufficient to defray the expense of an attorney, it may be that the white people will interest themselves in the matter and try to raise a sum sufficient to secure a new trial for the condemned negro, who the people of this city believe, is not guilty.

Mr. W. R. McKenney and family have returned to Petersburg after spending the summer at their country home, in Brunswick country.

Success in life depends largely on the stomach. The man with the baby's stomach finds himself also with a baby's peevishness and perversity. He has the baby's exaggerated personal sensitiveness and jealousy. He is an annoyance to his friends and an anxiety to his family. No man can be stronger than his stomach. A weak stomach argues a weak man. And a "weak" stomach is the common starting point of most of the so-called "weaknesses" which affect the great organs—heart, lungs, liver, the common starting point of most of the so-called "weaknesses" which affect the great organs—heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc. How can it be otherwise when the body and all its organs are dependent on the stomach for their nutrition? The "weak" stomach drags the organs down with it, because being weak it is unable to convert food into nutrition, and the organs of the body being starved, of necessity become weak, as a consequence of starvation.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It makes the weak body strong in the only way physical strength can be made, which is by food, properly digested and assimilated. The cures of "weak" hungs, "weak" kidneys, etc., which follow the use of "Golden Medical Discovery," are all due to this perfect nutrition of the body, the proof of which is the remarkable gain of sound, solid fiesh, which invariably marks the cure.

She is the Chattanooga, a sister ship to the Galveston, and she is about as far advanced as the Galveston. The two ships will be about equivalent to one, so far as the work on them is concerned, each one being a little more than 52 per cent, completed.

The force at the navy yard is being steadily increased to meet the additional strain imposed by the advent of the two ships, which the private yard were, on account of their financial difficulties and those of the ship building trust, unable to complete.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

PETERSBURG, VA., Sept. 16.—This time it was "Cuby in the Well," and "Cuby" is a horse. About 5 o'clock a few mornings ago the family of Mr. Robert Collier received the information that "Cuby," the little horse which was recently a gift to M. Wallace Collier from his father, had fallen into the well in the yard at Mr. Collier's stables on "The Heights." Men were sent at once to arrange for getting the horse "out of the hole." Two drays were placed on opposite sides of the well and a temporary derrick constructed. The block and tackle was soon at hand and the work begun site sides of the well and a temperary derrick constructed. The block and tack was soon at hand and the work begun without any delay. Dr. Robinson, the veterinary surgeon, was on hand to direct the placing of the rope around the horse. A man was rent down the well to do this work, but the little horse protested, and tried to fight his would-be rescuer. Soon, however, the rope had been properly adjusted and the process of raising the horse begun. It was no easy task to bring a horse out of a twenty-foot hole, but the men above, directed by Mr. Fisher Collier, worked carefully.

When "Cuby," the namesake of Mrs. Wiggs' well known horse, had almost reached the top the raising process was delayed for a short time and the horse, suspended fifteen feet from the bottom, with ropes around his fore shoulders, guietly waited till the derrick had been raised. Soon he was again safe in the yard, and the surgeon carefully inspected him to see how many bones were broken. To the delight of all the men he was unhurt, not a scratch was found on him, not a bone broken and the only inconvenience he seemed to suffer was a rubbing under his shoulders caused by the ropes used in lifting him.

The horse is a valuable one, and is a favorite pet with the entire household. There was great delight over his safe rescue, and "Cuby" was given one whole and, or the successful termination of his unusual escapade.

supremacy among the magazines for woman and home.

In your selection of a magazine you may choose from two classes-those you need and those you read for recreationor else you take THE DELINEATOR and combine both. If the word "necessary" is susceptible of a superlative, THE DELINEATOR is beyond all question the "most necessary" of all the magazines published for Woman.

Nine hundred thousand families proved this to be so last month; and each month brings its new thousands of members into the ever-growing DELINEATOR FAMILY.

Among the fashions it is the "most necessary" because it is all the fashion magazines in one, with their mistakes eliminated —their exaggerations corrected, and the really successful novelties stamped with the seal of authoritative approval-for if it is pictured in THE DELINEATOR it is "good form." It is equally the "most necessary" in the Nursery, in the Sewing-Room, in the Kitchen—throughout the whole house and out of doors in city and in country.

THE PARTIAL LIST OF CONTENTS BELOW

The Evolution of a Club Woman, by Agnes Surbridge, begins in this number. It is an autobiography and is the predicted success of the year. ¶ J. C. Hemment, the world-famed camera expert, begins one of the most remarkable series of photographic articles ever presented. They relate to his personal adventures at home and in foreign lands. ¶ The Silent Partier, by Lynn Roby Meekins; A Florida Cracker, by Virginia Frazer Boyle, are prominent among the fiction features, while the departments are fuller than usual of good things, with especial interest centring in the children's pages.

If the "most necessary" of the magazines for Woman is that one which helps most in every hour of "her" day and brings its after-hour of fascinating leisure-reading when the day is over, then, surely, "JUST GET THE DELINEATOR." LYNCHBURG, VA., September 16.—The arrest of the negro Lewis Moore on the charge of criminally assaulting Mrs. Marshall Stinnett has not created a riffle of excitement in Lynchburg, atthough the story told by Mrs. Stinnett, was 5f a most harrowing description.

The principal reason for this is the statement made by the woman's husband that his wife is crazy, and that she has been to the asylum for the insanc. This afternoon, nowever, evidence has been discovered that tends to strongly verify Mrs. Stinnett's assertions. She claimed that when attacked by the negro, she had a glass lamp in her hand, and that in the struggle that followed the lamp was lost. This afternoon the police found the lamp not far from the spot where the crime is said to have been committed.

The police have also secured samples of clay from both sides of the gully into which Mrs. Stinnett says she was lured, and the police claim that this clay corresponds to marks of dirt found on the negro's hat Mrs. Stinnett identified Lewis Moore as her assallant in a crowd of a hundred or more negroes, and she claims the be absolutely certain of remembering him.
